Shanghai Intelligent Building Technology (SIBT), Shanghai Smart Home Technology (SSHT), Parking China (PKC) and the Shanghai Smart Office Technology (SSOT) zone will take place from 29 – 31 August 2023 in halls W3 to W5 of the Shanghai New International Expo Centre. The four events will bring together around 400 exhibitors across 30,000 sqm of exhibition space. Meanwhile, more than 100 speakers will be invited to share industry insights at 20 forums. Participants will be able to explore the frontiers of smart technology and building-related industries, as well as the green developments within them.

Ms Lucia Wong, General Manager of Messe Frankfurt (HK) Ltd said: “Cross-industry cooperation undoubtedly acts as one of the main catalysts towards the development of intelligent buildings. Thus, this year’s fairs will run under the themes of ‘Smart connection’ and ‘Smart frontier’, creating a platform linking smart industries together. I sincerely welcome everyone to visit the fairs and help inject new energy into the industry.”

Around 400 exhibitors to participate

Attracting major players from across smart real estate, smart communities, smart facility management, smart hotels, smart campuses and more, the four events will feature a range of cutting-edge products and solutions on display.
